Thought for the day: Be Original – 8,789 Words of Wisdom by Barbara Ann Kipfer

Quote of the Day: “Do not die of another's misery. Beware of him who is stuck in the mud, and note that he calls to you, to be comforted by your mutual unhappiness. These men are on the hunt for those who will help them carry their misfortune: and of those to whom in their prosperity they gave the cold shoulder, they today ask the hand. Great coolness is necessary with the drowning, if you would bring them help without peril to yourself.” - Baltasar Gracian in “The Art of Worldly Wisdom”

Puzzle: (Yesterday: Only Michael Wraight and Dean Millard sent in answers and both got it right: Boldface, Feedback)

Last week was a busy one for the Bryant family, with many late-afternoon activities. On several days, to make waiting for dinner easier, Ms. Bryant served hors d'oeuvre (one day she served cheese and crackers) while the main course was cooking. One each day, she served a different hors d'oeuvre and a different dinner. From the information provided determine the activity on each day (Sunday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday), as well as the hors d'oeuvre and the main course (one was soup and sandwiches) served on that day (Note: Sunday is the first day of the week)

1. The Bryant's snacked on cocktail frank three days after they enjoyed raw vegetables with dip.
2. The Bryant's attended choir practice the day after they munched on stuffed celery.
3. Nachos were the appetizer two days after the main course was macaroni and cheese.
4. Bowling was latter in the week than the cocktail franks were served, but at least one day before the flounder dinner.
5. The Bryant's went shopping twice, and one of their shopping trips was on either Friday or Saturday. They ate baked chicken for dinner earlier in the week than either shopping trip.
6. The ballet was two days before the steak dinner.
